In an attempt to provide normalcy in our COVID-affected school year, Carroll High School has begun planning some typical homecoming activities. One of those activities included having the senior class vote for a homecoming king, queen, and court. During that process, a student was inadvertently placed on the wrong ballot. This was not a policy decision, a political statement, or purposeful insensitivity to any person or group, it was an oversight. We sincerely apologize for this mistake and will take steps to prevent similar issues from occurring again in the future.

NACS remains committed to developing the talent and nurturing the creativity of each child, regardless of race/ethnicity, religion, creed, economic advantage or disadvantage, native language, sexual orientation, gender identity, or mental, emotional, or physical challenges. We believe each child can be successful, and as a result, the school's purpose is to provide a healthy and safe learning environment that helps each child achieve success by engaging, supporting, challenging, and inspiring each of them.
