

Perry Hill's last day before break filled with fun science and rewards for helping a charity

Fundraising rewards among grades and students benefit American Cancer Society

- WHAT: Perry Hill Elementary School has a few things happening today as the grading period ends before spring break.
- Fourth graders will complete science experiments with an egg drop to see if their creations preserve their egg.
- As part of efforts support American Cancer Society, students have participated in various mini fundraisers to earn a chance to tape Principal Caleb Miner to a wall with painter's tape, among other rewards.
- WHO: Perry Hill Elementary 4th grade students will test their inventions with an egg drop. Perry Hill 1st and 3rd grade students will tape Principal Caleb Miner.
- WHEN: 1 p.m., Thursday, April 1 egg drop in cafeteria
1:20 p.m. Principal taping in hallway
- WHERE: Perry Hill Elementary School
13121 Coldwater Rd.
Fort Wayne, IN 46845
- Enter Door 1 (bring ID/driver license for visitor pass)
- WHY: The egg drop is an annual 4th grade project for science class. The students have participated in various mini fundraisers to help those enduring cancer and cancer research through the American Cancer Society.

###